Timucuan Ecological and Historic Preserve Cedar Point Boat Ramp Reconstruction

National Park Service to Rebuild Cedar Point Boat Ramp

The National Park Service is considering a proposal to rebuild the boat ramp at Cedar Point, a site within the Timucuan Ecological and Historic Preserve. This project was identified as a high priority for the City of Jacksonville's plan to provide access to preservation parks and was recently funded by the City in partnership with the National Park Service.

Public input is solicited at this time as to identify any issues or concerns that the National Park Service should consider during the environmental analysis of this project. An environmental assessment will be completed in compliance with National Environmental Policy Act Requirements.
